ENTHUSIASTS ON QUIVIVE FOR RACE START

By J. W. MARCHBANK

Whenever the day is near for the opening of a period of sport at Tanforan, the pioneer course of the Pacific Coast, interest in racing increases fast, not only in this vicinity but in distant places. When all is said and done, Tanforan has a glamor not possessed by any other track out this way. There were good horses competing at Tanforan as long ago as the nineties. It is the only plant in the West with traditions of the great pastime.

In order to keep up the atmosphere so inherent in Tanforan I am making broad plans not only for the season to open next month, but for those to come later. I recognize there must be something more than over-night events; features with entries closing long prior to the running of the races are necessary to maintain the high standard I have set before me.

As my readers know, the Tanforan Futurity will be run for the first time in the fall of 1938. That is quite far away, but it is not too early to give thought to putting the stakes over in a big way. It is my intention to have the nominations all in the office next year, which is two years before the running.

There has been a tendency at some tracks to close stakes later and later. For example, the entries for two features for the babies at a Chicago course closed last week, which is only one year prior to the date of the contests. That is not early enough. The name "Futurity" is not proper for a race with the entries taken as late as when the colts and fillies are yearlings. To my way of thinking, a "Futurity" should be a produce event or at most sucklings or weanlings should be nominated.

A little later I'll make an announcement of the exact closing date for entries to the Tanforan Futurity, to which I am certain just about all of the leading breeders of the country will make nominations.

DELINEATION OF LIVING IN CHINA SHOWN BY FILM

Portrayal Considered One of Best Yet Produced With Business Setting

"Oil for the Lamps of China," the latest Cosmopolitan production released by First National Pictures, which will be shown at the Daly City Theater, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 16, 17 and 18, is heralded as both a most powerful drama and a stirring human document.

The novel by Alice Tisdale Hobart, upon which the picture is based, and which was one of the best sellers, is a delineation of the life of American pioneers in China.

Mrs. Hobart spent years in China, as the wife of an American business man, and got her information at first hand.

The scenes for the most part are laid in the Orient, including the snow swept plains of Manchuria, Peking, Shanghai and the torrid interior.

Pat O'Brien has the leading role, that of an American fired with enthusiasm to make good with his company, a great oil concern, and to bring light to China by the way of lamps and oil.

Josephine Hutchinson portrays the girl Pat marries and who, in the end saves him from being cast aside by the company in whose service he had spent a life-time of work.

Jean Muir and John Eldridge play the roles of friends of Pat and Miss Hutchinson, who failing to understand Chinese methods, are broken on the wheel of adversity.

Also on same showing, William Bakewell in "The Curtain Falls." Ladies Ovenserve Wednesday. Amateur night Sunday.

Daly City Theater will show fight pictures of Louis vs. Levinsky, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24 and 25.

BRIEF HISTORY OF AUXILIARY IN YEAR'S REVIEW

Report Many Achievements Of Which Unit Can Be Reasonably Proud

Daly City Unit No. 410 has had an outstanding year of activities. Our work at Fort Miley Hospital has been most satisfactory. We held hospital parties every month, made curtains and drapes for the sun room of the fourth floor ward which we adopted, made four dozen hot water bottle covers, donated several cartons of cigarettes to the veterans every month, also books, puzzles, tooth paste and other articles. We have enjoyed our work there.

Our membership quota was 68. On November 11 we turned in 48 cards, by December 7 we reached 71. Our final roll was 76. We feel this is a great indication of the enthusiasm and determination with which our work is carried on.

We have a Junior membership of thirty. The girls are fully organized, with their own officers, and hold their own meetings under the guidance of the Junior Chairman. They have a uniformed drill team, which has been drilled by a member of the Post. This team has made several public appearances this year, both in parades and giving exhibition drills. Their work in selling poppies this year was outstanding. The girls sold over 500. We are proud of them. They also made favors and place cards for the veterans at the hospital for Christmas.

On September 24 our president and several members in uniform participated in dedicating the American Flag for the Druids Lodge.

On Constitution Day, Mrs. Florence Chess spoke in the schools in Daly City, accompanied by the president.

On Memorial Day, our Unit participated with other Veteran Organizations of Daly City in putting on a parade and Memorial Day Services.

The president presented the American Legion Auxiliary Scholarship to the outstanding graduate of the Jefferson School District at the graduating exercises held on December 12 and again on May 29.

The work in Americanism has covered many other phases of Auxiliary work. An Americanism Essay Contest was held in the schools. Flag codes were distributed in the schools. Our colors were taken to many public affairs. We also have eleven members in the County Auxiliaries Drill Team. This team has paraded and participated in many civic and patriotic affairs throughout the year in Melba and Harriet Browne, pretty members of the committee, look over the scene, showing the gigantic catwalk in the background.

Over a thousand realtors from all parts of California will join brokers from ten other western states for the Western United States Realty Conference, the thirty-first annual convention of the California Real Estate Association and the national board meeting of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, to be held jointly in San Francisco, October 2 to 5, it was announced yesterday by Kenneth H. Smitten, general chairman and vice president of the San Francisco group, host board.

National problems of taxation and housing will be discussed during the four-day program. An appraisal contest and a home town contest will be other features, with the Federal Housing Administration taking an important part in the program.

Walter S. Schmidt of Cincinnati, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, Herbert U. Nelson of Chicago, secretary, and Governor Frank F. Merriam will be among the outstanding participants.

HIGH SCHOOL EVENING CLASSES TO BEGIN SOON

Three Subjects Selected And Any Adult Resident May Be Enrolled

Evening school classes will begin at the Jefferson Union High School on next Tuesday evening, September 17, at 7 o'clock. The classes will meet two evenings a week, Tuesdays and Thursdays from seven to nine o'clock.

The subjects offered will be Stenography, Typewriting, and Americanization. The class in Americanization will be taught English as well as government. The instruction is primarily intended for adults who wish to prepare for examination to get their United States citizenship papers. Mr. Dietrich Vollbrecht will be the teacher.

In the classes in Stenography and Typewriting both beginners and advanced students will be enrolled. This will be an excellent opportunity for beginners to learn stenography, and it will afford an opportunity to those who desire to brush up their speed either in stenography or typing.

Miss Dorothy Smith will be in charge of the classes. The equipment in the commercial department for this work is unsurpassed in any school, and any one desiring to acquire skill in this work should take advantage of the opportunity.

Instruction will be free, and any adult resident of the Jefferson Union High School District has the privilege of attending these classes.

Principal James Ferguson requests that all who desire to enroll do so on the first evening, so that all may start out together and thus make the best possible beginning.

SPEND VACATION TOGETHER FIRST TIME IN EIGHT YEARS

For the first time in eight years has it been possible for Mr. and Mrs. H. Warshawski, Mission street merchants, to spend their vacation in each other's company. The necessity of one of the other to remain at home to look after the business has always precluded their both being away at the same time.

This year, however, it was found feasible to close their store for the weekend and the Admission Day holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Warshawski and their daughters, Jane and Maxine, departed for Santa Cruz at the end of last week and remained over Admission Day, thus enjoying a delightful vacation and a well earned rest and surcease from the arduous duties of business.

TRAINED YOUNG MEN DEMANDED BY ALASKA

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

When the whole-hearted endeavor is launched, such as the Youth Movement by the Roosevelt administration, the mind naturally reverts to the historical incident in which Thad Stevens brought free schooling to the children of the great state of Pennsylvania. Thad Stevens was a fighter when it came to putting over any idea he thought was right—a type that I have always thoroughly admired.

Something that interests me, too, is the fact that a thoroughbred, given the name of Thad Stevens about the time the statesman was at the height of his fame, won laurels that old-timers like to recall. Thad Stevens (the horse) demonstrated the possession of the courage that was such a marked characteristic of the man for whom he was named by scoring in a race at four mile heats at Ocean View Park, San Francisco.

The battle Thad Stevens (the man) made for free education was founded on the principle that a well-trained intellect is the best foundation for success in life. He was strong for building up self-reliant youth, the kind I have often set forth as being ideal for conquering the 500,000 square miles of Alaska. The Roosevelt notion that it is wise to give the youths the right kind of training before meeting all the problems coming later on is in line with what I have been writing for several years.

We are so accustomed to our vast system of public schools it is hard to visualize a time when it was at the risk of his life that a statesman could give his talents to their establishment. As Elsie Singmaster, in a vivid article in "This Week," says, it was just a hundred years ago that Thad Stevens threw himself into the struggle against ignorance and greed in making it possible for every boy and girl to have an education.

When a threatening mob bombarded his office in Gettysburg with cries of "Down with free schools," Stevens stood his ground and refused to budge from his position favoring free education. The mob wanted him to have the free education statute repealed. The statesman shut the door with a bang after hearing what the crowd wanted and, striding up and down, said to three friends in his office:

"How shall men vote unless they are informed? How can they be informed unless they are educated?"

He struck his fist into his hand:

"If they repeal that law, it'll be because I'm dead."

The law was not repealed.

A thing I have been thinking about, too, as a slant on the efforts of the federal administration, is the desirability of having some of the young people we are educating and some a bit older in important positions in the government. Well-read people are probably correct in saying that a little philosophy doesn't hurt, either in private business or in governmental affairs. Probably it will be recalled that in Plato's Republic, written more than two thousand years ago, it was suggested that a "Brain Trust" be at the helm. So Roosevelt is not doing anything so revolutionary in calling on the best minds to help him to pull the country out of the slough of the depression. What could be better than to have the wise rule?

Arthur Brisbane defines capitalism as government by organized dollars.

That is a fact cry from the ideal government Plato imagines. In an adequate translation, we learn the philosopher held that when the rulers of a state possess wisdom and govern in the light of it, one can hope for a just state where the individual may live a just life.

Plato lived in a political world of chaos, not so unlike our own, and so it is no wonder that what he hoped for above all was order. As he put it:

"There is a music in the affairs of men which one may take one's part in or which one may spoil."

SUPERVISORS IN PEACEFUL MEET AT REDWOOD

Spectators Are Disappointed When No Dissension Marks Session

Verbal clashes such as marked county supervisor sessions in Redwood City for many weeks past were conspicuous by their absence when the board met in regular session on Tuesday. With the chambers crowded by citizens, many of whom anticipated a sort of show-down on the county executive controversy, a marked wave of disappointment surged through the room when nothing developed.

When it became apparent that Supervisor Beer did not intend to resume the fight to force Mr. Kellogg's resignation, and Supervisor Poole's mind also apparently being at rest on that question, a number of citizens gradually faded from the supervisorial chambers.

The dove of peace hovered over the

DISTANCE EVENTS WILL BE PLAYED UP AT TANFORAN

Hopes High For Successful Meeting To Open First Saturday In October

Fans are anticipating spectacular sports at the fall meeting at Tanforan, beginning Saturday, October 5. Applications for stable accommodations indicate the thoroughbreds to take part in the twenty-six days racing will be of uniformly high class. Several hundred horses are already in training at the track.

Contests at one mile or a longer distance will feature the coming session. In regard to scheduling a large number of events starting in the front stretch, J. W. Marchbank, directing owner, said:

"I thoroughly believe the future of racing depends largely on the breeding of runners possessed of stamina as well as of speed. To help in achieving that aim I have directed that as many races as possible be at a worth while route. I know the public is with the association in this matter. Events beginning in front of the grandstand or even further up the stretch invariably evoke more enthusiasm."

Breeding will also be encouraged by the programming of more events than usual in other seasons for two year olds. The youngsters are noted for running more nearly to form in the fall of the year than at any other time and give a thrill every time they come bounding down the last three sixteenths, perhaps to a nose decision.

The Tanforan Futurity, a stakes for two year olds, to have its first running in 1938, will be at one mile, thus carrying out Director Marchbank's ideas about a sensible length for races. He holds short events are usually but scrambles and should be eliminated on major tracks as soon as possible.

LARGE CROWD AND GOOD TIME AT HEIM CLUB HOUSE DANCE

Possibly the largest crowd ever assembled for a social function gathered at the Tanforan Club House, last Saturday evening to participate in the benefit dance for Officer Edmond L. Heim of Daly City, who was injured in an accident on July 4.

People from all walks of life were there and every one in attendance was loud in praise of the wonderfully efficient arrangements made for the convenience and comfort of the people. Never has there been an entertainment of any kind where pleasure in participation was so universal.

The committee of the Daly City Municipal Employees Association who had charge of the affair are to be complimented on the orderly and efficient manner in which they put on the dance in every detail.

CALIFORNIA WILL MAKE SURE OF AUTO SALES TAX

California's general fund cash register will ring up $15 for every motor vehicle operated or towed into the state for resale after midnight Saturday (Sept. 14).

This charge on so-called caravan vehicles was authorized by the last session of the legislature and collection of the fees was entrusted to Department of Motor Vehicles. As machinery of the department's border registration stations will not have to be augmented for collections, California's general fund will take a 100 percent cut profit from the caravan levy, according to Ray Ingels, director of Motor Vehicles.

As caravaning of vehicles is rated as "transportation of property for compensation," each operator of a delivery of cars for resale in California must obtain a Board of Equalization permit before his cargo units can be passed into the state Department of Motor Vehicles. Board of Equalization permits cost $25.

On being checked against stolen car records and for clear title, each vehicle entering California for resale will be marked with a distinctive yellow label to permit its delivery to a specified destination in the state. Individual permits are outlawed after 90 days from date of issue.

FINAL PASSAGE OF ORDINANCE TO LICENSE "BINGO"

The City Council of Daly City met on Monday evening with all members present except Councilman Selmi. Henry Sundermann acted as clerk in the absence of Clerk Bert Ross, who is still on vacation.

A motion prevailed to advertise for proposals for insurance covering all forms of liability except city automobiles. A copy of the advertisement appears in this issue. Bids to be in by September 23.

A communication from the Board of Fire Commissioners stated windows in Station No. 5 need repairing. The fire chief was ordered to attend to the matter.

The County Clerk submitted a certificate giving the number of voters in the newly annexed portion of Colma as 199. This matter will be carefully checked by city officials.

Governor Merriam sent regrets that he would be unable to attend the affair celebrating completion of the Mission street widening. He stated it is possible he will be represented by some state official.

The ordinance providing for licensing of bingo games in Daly City was read and passed to print by a vote of three to one, Councilman Fahy voting in the negative. A copy of this ordinance will be found in the advertising columns of this issue.

The California Pacific Title and Trust Company offered to settle with the city for the sum of $298.01 in payment of all delinquent city taxes on property owned here by it. The offer was accepted.

All bids to furnish automobiles for city use were rejected and checks accompanying the bids ordered returned. It was stated this action was taken for the reason that new models will soon be on the market.

City Attorney McCurdy gave as his opinion on request that veterans should pay taxes on assessed valuation of property as provided by the law pertaining to exemptions.

Messrs. Pitschke and Weld appeared as representatives of the Daly City Merchants Association. They spoke regarding the initiating of an ordinance prohibiting the promiscuous distribution of hand bills and similar literature in Daly City. The fact was cited that most California cities of prominence had adopted such measures and the desirability of a law of this kind here was stressed. The speakers urged the council to enact such an ordinance. The matter was referred to the chairman of the ordinance committee.

San Francisco and San Mateo County. Many children were given aid through the work of our Child Welfare Chairman.

Our social activities have been many. October 6 we held a Past Commanders and Past presidents Banquet. This was enjoyed by all the Post and Unit members. October 29 was the birthday of our president and we gave her a party at a downtown Cafe. The members presented her with a pen and pencil set which has the Auxiliary emblem on it. A number of socials were held, including our fourth birthday party.

Several socials and card parties were given that were very successful financially. These were under the direction of our Social Chairman. Our Annual Joint Christmas Party with the Post, for all members children, was greatly enjoyed by all. Gifts and candy were distributed to all present and a box was sent to a needy family.

The night of our initiation was a memorable one. We had as our guest of honor our Department Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Ethel Flynn. Her talk on the various phases of Auxiliary work was most helpful and instructive. It was especially interesting as the Post and Unit No. 2044, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were also guests of the evening.

Our president and secretary attended the luncheon held for the National President, Mrs. A. C. Carlson, at the Hotel Mark Hopkins in San Francisco.

We have endeavored to carry out the entire program as outlined by the department. We have donated to all the funds and made all the special donations. Our poppy sales were twice as large as ever before. We sold over 900. We feel this has been an outstanding achievement for so small a community and with another veteran organization carrying on here.

Our great incentive this year is that the president of the Eighth District, Mrs. Catherine Foreman, is a member and the first president of our Unit. We have done all we can to make her proud of her own Unit in the district. Our own President, Mrs. Marcia Trier, has been a most faithful and untiring worker. All members and officers have been behind her in all her plans and efforts to carry on this great work.

Shortly before convention we were

STUDY CIRCLE AND SEWING CLUB NOW ORGANIZED

Interesting Meeting Is Held by Crocker P. T. A. At Pershing School

Crocker P. T. A. held their regular meeting in General Pershing School, on Tuesday of this week. In the absence of Mrs. Benardine Lewis, the President, Mrs. G. Katch presided. Delicious home-made cakes were served before the meeting, by Mrs. Davison and her committee.

A study circle and sewing group were organized, with Mrs. J. E. Walker and Mrs. Orvilla Pauw as chairmen. The first meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Pauw, 859 Hanover street, on Tuesday of next week. All members are invited to attend. Items of interest to the Child Welfare Group will be discussed, and plans laid for a bazaar and food sale.

Two new members were welcomed. A membership drive will be held in the near future. Crocker Unit hopes to have a full membership when it is settled in the new Crocker School.

Mrs. Orvilla Pauw sang "Some Day, Some Time," by Clark, in her usual charming manner. Mr. R. L. Crane gave an interesting talk on the new schools, now under construction.

The whist game conducted in General Pershing School on September 10 was a success, and the chairmen in charge wish to thank those who helped so generously.

The next Conference of the Seventeenth District will be held in Pescadero on September 21. Those who wish to attend should make their reservations immediately through the president, Mrs. Lewis. Pescadero Units hold this Conference annually, and those attending always report an instructive meeting and an interesting program.

While many states charge a fee for motor vehicle operator licenses, California administers one of the severest examining systems and grants permits without cost.

honored by being selected by Ocean View Unit No. 494 as the Unit with which they wished to consolidate. We appreciate this honor and hope they will enjoy their association with us.

So it is that we look back on a year of success and forward to greater work next year.

Is your child slow about his homework? Don't blame him. Perhaps it is the lighting under which he works. For poor lighting can make his homework unnecessarily difficult. It can cause eyestrain and fatigue, which can eventually result in defective vision.

Why not give him a lamp that is designed to give better light and that is kind to the eyes? The type of study lamp pictured here. It is specifically designed for better seeing by giving better light. A special glass bowl within the shade diffuses the light, removes glare and throws a generous amount of light to the ceiling for general illumination. Costs less than one cent more an evening than the light he is now using. Come in and see this better lamp that costs so little to buy and to use.

ECONOMY OF THE UNITED STATES

Predatory interests are attacking President Roosevelt's New Deal.

Business men across the line are like patients or clients who have been ill, but following the skilled advice of doctor or lawyer, begin to feel their oats; they forget the bankrupt and unbalanced condition their economy was in when the Roosevelt Administration took the business over. They forget how quickly unbalanced and chaos will return if some regulation is not maintained on business manipulation.

Another year may clear the air. Meantime Canadians and others are interested watchers because United States, like Russia, is carrying on a social experiment of world importance.

What the Roosevelt Administration seems to have been trying to do, is to strike a balance between a government of LIBERTY, and a government of EQUALITY. You cannot have both, demagogues to the contrary.

If a policy of LIBERTY is followed, those persons of superior ability and predatory instinct will, as in the past, end all thought or talk of equalizing the enormous disparity between the highest and the lowest incomes in United States.

The difference between the highest and lowest incomes in Russia is about 1 to 20.

The difference between the highest and the lowest incomes in United States is something like 1 to 20,000.

Financial illiteracy, manipulation, and outlived ideas of the function of money and credit have allowed disparity between the highest and lowest incomes to grow until it has lost all semblance of reward for effort.

What Roosevelt is trying to do is, not to follow the Communist ideal of forcing equality upon talents and abilities, whom Nature made unequal, but rather to narrow this wide gap between highest and lowest income; and to have a reasonable relation between effort and reward.

If a policy of EQUALITY is followed to the strict letter of the law, there can and will be no more liberty in the United States than there now is in Russia; nor can there be scope for superior talent and ability.

Japan, like Russia, is selling goods cheap on world markets because Japan has simplified production by giving certain industrial groups a virtual monopoly in manufacture, in transport and in finance.

Can United States allow such a monopoly and call herself a democracy? Actually, Japan has public ownership; but with the ownership left out. Ownership is still in private hands.

Can those monopolists in Japan hope to retain their present hold on the Japanese public without a revolution?

The trick in United States is to pass on to the masses the benefits of technology.

That country possesses a mass production mechanism of tremendous powers. Canada the same. To run that machine only part time is costly; it will not satisfy the public. To run it full time and pass the benefits of that big distribution over to the people requires regulation.

If Americans refuse to be regulated as to the number of factories and banks and railroads their country shall have, and the amount of time those plants shall work, the American people will have to pay more for their goods. They will have to work more plants, work longer hours, take less holidays and finally wreck their present capitalism.

Would that be preferable to the middle course objective of Roosevelt's New Deal?

Unrestricted tooth and claw competition would mean a few more American business men having more wealth and power, might give the country a certain air of activity; but in food, clothing and shelter lines would mean more cost to the masses. United States and Canada, too, should, with their present system of government, be able to regulate into our economy many of the useful ideas of Japan.

Is not such a course preferable to unlimited competition with its economic anarchy and chaos?

Such questions seem to be the ones Americans have to consider in estimating the value of their Administration's New Deal.

Unrestricted liberty to Americans of great money and great minds will bring serfdom for America's masses. Equality for the menial mind and job of America means Statism and Communism for this continent.

The Libert middle course is the one Roosevelt seems to be trying to adopt. It is the one that will take least and give most to the great middle classes.

Which economy do the sensible people of United States prefer?—Vancouver Sun.

LESSON SERMON OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Substance" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, September 15, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "Ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in yourselves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance" (Hebr. 10:34). Other Bible citations will include: "Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written. He taketh the wise in their own craftiness. And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain" (1 Cor. 3:18-20).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God's thoughts are perfect and eternal, are substance and Life. Material and temporal thoughts are human, involving error, and since God, Spirit, is the only cause, they lack a divine cause. The temporal and material are not then creations of Spirit... Mind creates His own likeness in ideas, and the substance of an idea is very far from being the supposed substance of non-intelligent matter" (pp. 286, 287).

FIRE PREVENTION

With the foregoing facts, that you have been reading in this paper for several weeks in mind, it may be easily seen how eternal vigilance is the price of safety and that no matter how efficient a fire department may be, carelessness is the one great cause of fires and fire losses.

It is also well to bear in mind that the Fire Department would much rather have a record of few fires and few losses than heroic rescues and superhuman efforts at a number of large ones.

Consider yourself a working part of your local fire department, and think how you may best co-operate with them to help prevent fires.

Suggestions in case of fire: First of all and most important, do not lose your self control. Decide what you will do and how. The moment a fire is discovered immediately call the Fire Department and permit no door to be opened into a room where a fire is burning, except the one necessary to fight the fire through. Never run from a fire and leave a door open behind you. The less air a fire has, the slower it will burn. Women should never attempt to stamp out a blaze; there is great danger of their clothing catching fire and thereby losing life.

LOCAL TEAM AVENGES DEFEAT

Petrocchi Turns In Masterly Exhibition And Carrasco, Maloney And Nelder Excel With Mighty Bats.

(By Al Gould)

The Daly City Tanforan baseball club, our local team, advanced on Uncle Sam's soldier boys, better known as the Thirtieth Infantry, at the Presidio, Sunday afternoon and applied a nice coating of whitewash to the tune of 7 to 0.

Lola Petrocchi, our home town twirling ace, once again showed his superior qualities when he completely baffled the hard hitting soldiers with his speed and curves, setting them down with four scattered bingles.

Maloney, Carrasco and Nelder led the rampage with their mighty bludgeons. Maloney connected for a double, two singles and scored one run. Carrasco hit two singles and scored two runs. Nelder banged out a triple, a single and scored one tally.

Johnny Vasquez received fifteen chances at the short patch, but, although the box score shows this lad made the team's three errors, much credit is due him for his marvelous fielding. In the fourth inning he executed a very fast double play, unassisted; in the seventh he again executed a fast double play with the aid of his team-mate, Nelder. Both these plays came at a moment when a score was inevitable with the least slipup.

The play by play report of this may be compared with the one at Oakland between the same clubs, which eliminated our lads from the tournament, and you readers and fans can readily see that Lady Luck favored the soldier boys in the tournament contest.

The score:

GREAT BRITAIN'S NEW SCHEME FOR BIG NAVAL FORCE

With statements and denials flying back and forth in London about the new navy Britain will build when the present sea power limitation treaties lapse, one clear fact emerged:

King George intends to have a navy second to none.

Surrendering before immovable Japanese objections to continuing limitations under a system of ratios, the British are now negotiating with the principal powers for an exchange of building programs beyond which the powers concerned would agree not to build.

Thus, the United States would agree to lay down only five battle-ships in a stated time, Britain would agree to build only five and Japan five.

But even if such naval programs are declared in advance, they will not be binding on the powers, Lord Londonderry, the cabinet's spokesman in the house of lords, now reveals.

Any power changing its mind would promise to give a year's notice, he stated.

Chief initial difficulty about this system is that no government wants to declare what it is going to do until it learns what the other nations will build.

So Britain has taken the bull by the horns and submitted its tentative building program in the next few years to the United States, Japan, France and Italy. Germany already is tied to 35 per cent of the British navy.

But the British cabinet refuses to whisper a single detail of this program to parliament, which will have to vote the money, let alone the public, which will have to foot the bill.

So a sensation was caused when what purports to be the British seven-year naval plan was published and the cost of the vast armada put at approximately $750,000,000.

State Identifies Fish

Because so many California fish are known by several names, and because the same names are applied to different fish, state officials have published a booklet which housewives may carry to market for use in identifying the kind of fish they want.

MIRROR SAVES MONEY

A specially constructed hand mirror, reflecting the underside of the bars of railway cars, is used for inspection in finding flaws and broken arch bars, thus saving the railroads much loss. Millions of dollars are lost in damage to equipment and right of way because of these defects.

BRING HOME GOOD CONVENTION NEWS

Good news was brought home to San Mateo County by the delegation returning from the convention of the California Ancient Order of Hibernians, recently held in Vallejo.

The next bi-annual convention of this organization will be held in this county in the summer of 1937. This was a hard won victory for this section, as Sacramento and Los Angeles were both out to get the convention. Since both the Hibernians and their Ladies' Auxiliary participated in this great meeting, it will mean an attendance of at least ten thousand persons. The actual meeting place will be in Burlingame and San Mateo.

The popular young Hibernian, Daniel J. O'Connell, Acting Coroner for this county, is president and organizer of the Burlingame-San Mateo Division. Other prominent delegates to the convention in Vallejo were Allen J. Ward, Ray Greene, Joseph F. O'Malley and Michael Cahill, all of whom report great enthusiasm among the members of the order.

SAFETY EFFORT URGES GOOD DRIVING LIGHTS

With faulty or inadequate lights on automobiles listed as a direct or contributing cause in reports on many traffic accidents, the importance of good lights adjusted to comply with law is emphasized in a recent statement by an automotive authority. The motorists organization announces a program of educational efforts for the month of August on the subject of car lighting equipment and its relation to safety.

Requirements of law regarding car lights are summarized by the Automobile Association as follows:

All vehicles must carry lights from one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise. Two headlights are required in front and one red light in the rear. Red tail lights are also required on trailers. A red tail light is always required on the rear of vehicles which are stopped on the open road in the night time, and also in a city, unless there is sufficient light to reveal substantial objects for two hundred feet.

Glaring headlights are prohibited. Headlights are deemed to be glaring or dazzling when any part of the main bright portion of the beam strikes an object higher than the lamp center twenty-five feet or more ahead of the vehicle.

Headlights need not be displayed when a motor vehicle is not in motion and a right hand wheel is within 12 inches of the curb on the right side of the highway. Colored lights, other than amber or white, visible from the front, and colors other than red, visible from the rear, are prohibited upon private passenger vehicles, except in approved signal devices.

Headlights are required to be of approximately equal candlepower and so attached that the centers of the headlights shall not be more than 54 inches above the ground. On all new cars now sold the law requires that the centers shall not be more than 42 inches or less than 30 inches above the surface on which the vehicle stands.

Motor vehicles may be equipped with two sidelamps, but no more or less, which must be white. The term "sidelamps" refers to lights other than headlights, spot lights, and auxiliary lights, the rays of which project forward. Bulbs in sidelamps are limited to three candlepower. Sidelamps shall not be lighted at the same time as the headlights.

MOST RESIDENCES NOW HEATED BY NATURAL FUEL

At the beginning of the year 1930 gas as a house heating agent was used in but 10 per cent of northern and central California homes. Of the domestic heating appliances sold by the dealers 90 per cent were designed to use other fuels such as coal, oil or wood. Today the proportions are more than reversed, for it is estimated that 92 per cent of all house heating appliances are gas-fueled.

The reason for this remarkable change is found in natural gas service, which is now available to fully 90 per cent of consumers in the territory mentioned. Statistics show that since its introduction bills for domestic heating and cooking have been so materially reduced as to allow a wider distribution of the family income. Also, not only has natural gas come to the aid of the domestic budget, but living conditions in the home have been immeasurably improved by a heating service that is automatic of operation and so imposes no burden of care or attention upon the housewife, is free of dirt, smoke or ashes, and due to its mechanical excellence, is the last word in safety.

The home maker who is contemplating the installation of some heating device to insure personal comfort for her household during the coming winter months may investigate matters for herself. This she may do either through the gas company or through a dealer. Both employ specialists who will give practical demonstration of the working of any appliance and, also, place their expert advice at her disposal. Domestic dwellings vary in type, size and arrangements but there is no dwelling so constructed that the heating problem it presents cannot be solved by some sort of installation with natural gas for fuel. The devices on the market are many, ranging from central furnaces to portable heaters, and, due to constant progress in mechanical science, are much less expensive to install than they used to be.

FEDERAL HELP FOR RECREATION STATE CENTERS

Although national forests cover one-fifth of the area of California, they do not have an example of the redwood type of forest within their boundaries. It is now proposed to acquire about 200,000 acres of virgin and cut over timber lands within the redwood region so as to secure through federal ownership and management of planned development and stabilization of the economic life of the region. These national forests when created will not be handled as parks, but as economic forest units. Parts of the forests will be logged under an approved method of selective cutting under forestry practices. Grazing areas will be set aside for the use of livestock, and adequate improvements will be built to develop and safeguard the resources from fire.

Because of the natural popularity of the redwood region as a vacation land, recreation will be an important feature of the proposed redwood national forests. Fishing and hunting will be permitted, public camp grounds will be established for the comfort and convenience of travelers, and land leased for summer homes. Virgin forest conditions will be preserved around all highly valuable recreational centers.

SUPERVISORS IN PEACEFUL MEET AT REDWOOD

deliberations and county business was transacted in record time.

WPA Report Requested

At the suggestion of Supervisor Witt of the First Township, County Executive Kellogg was instructed to keep in touch with Captain L. C. McAloney, county relief administrator, in order to report on the twenty-two projects before the federal WPA administration.

At one time, however, there was danger of the otherwise peaceful session being disrupted with the usual verbal fireworks. This was when a rather scathing rebuke, contained in a letter from the Epic Democratic Club relative to political conditions in San Mateo County, was read. Chairman Manuel Francis saved the day, when, before the various supervisorial orators could get into action, he ordered the letter filed.

Ocean Shore To Be Aided

The State Highway Commission notified the supervisors that it was the intention to use any surplus money it had during the coming year for the start of construction on the Ocean Shore Highway, around Pedro Point. Bids were called on $25,000 worth of Visitation school district bonds, the money to be used for the construction of a school at Brisbane in conformity with the recent school bond election in that district.

Added to the score or more of applications for hog ranches, more were received at this session and all were referred to County Health Director Gans. Next Monday has been set as protest day on hog ranch permits.

Wants Outside Accountants

County Executive Kellogg requested of the board that he be empowered to employ outside accountants to set up modern business systems in the court house to replace the alleged antiquated methods now in force in some departments. The request was laid over for further consideration. Meanwhile Mr. Kellogg will have to submit a cost price for this extra work.

County Engineer Scott (Acting) notified the board that his report on the expenditures of gasoline tax funds allotted to this county last year is completed and the same will be in the hands of the state highway commission within a few days. The time limit is September 30.

At the request of Supervisor Al Witt, the planning commission will be asked whether, in figuring their annual budget against proposed expenditures, they had figured approximate receipts from permits.

Not a cross word was spoken at the meeting adjourned.

QUEEN CANDIDATE IS CORDIALLY RECEIVED

Miss Ruth Mildred Lindorff, who is representing Daly City in the contest for queen of the Fiesta at Bay Meadows, October 11-12-13, was presented at the meeting of the Rod and Gun Club and was introduced to the members by Captain Dobbie of Radio fame.

She also attended the meeting of the Veteran Firemen, who endorsed her candidacy.

Miss Lindorff was tendered a cordial welcome and reception of the Druids Lodge, of which she is a member.

LOCAL VISITORS AT BOYES SPRINGS

Barney is much improved in health and is feeling fine and hopes to soon be back in harness again.
